To Whom it May Concern:

I first met Ted Sprink approximately 5 years ago when he came to Dallas to make a presentation to our firm concerning the UCC insurance product that he developed for Fidelity. Since that time I have gotten to know Ted well and have been very impressed by him. He is extremely bright and creative and is one of the few people I have met who can actually “think outside the box”. Lots of people talk about it but very few have the vision and initiative to actually do it.

I enjoy sitting down with Ted and watching him attack and analyze and ultimately solve a complex problem. He is also one of those rare people who is not only extremely bright but is a very gifted communicator. He speaks well and senses what his audience is interested in and makes sure that he covers that information.

On a personal note, I have also gotten to know his wife Joy who is charming and know him to be an upstanding family man of fine character who has raised two children who are now college graduates.

Based on my knowledge of Ted Sprink, I am more than happy to recommend him for any senior management position and think he has the tools to make any endeavor he undertakes a great success. Please feel free to call me if you would like any additional information

Sincerely,

Howard Baskin
